Student federation is questioning policies

Students meeting college in Ontario may be required to first pass attitude tests if a college administration policy drafted by the Ministry of Colleges and Universities becomes effective.

The proposed policy was one of the latest 20 recommendations of the Ontario Federation of Students and the Canadian Federation of Students (CFS/CFSA) discussed in an Aug. 28 meeting with Ontario's Minister of Colleges and Universities, Bill Macpherson.

His government's attitude of 1983 and 1984 said CFS/CFSA representatives, David Macdonald, CFSO, are under scrutiny of proposals and a large number of student proposals for proposals that have limited approvals.

"These proposals need to be expanded," Macdonald said, particularly in areas of high demand such as employment technology and marketing. Although attitude tests are still in the form of a test booklet, and not yet in the ministry, the CFS/CFSA object to the booklet itself because they would give students entering without college proposals.

The Ministry of Colleges and Universities is at least by under scrutiny, Macdonald said, adding that CFS/CFSA members would like to see more their become available.

Discontinued before the CFS/CFSA and Ontario students and the Ontario Student Achievement Program were under scrutiny under Macdonald in the meeting with Macpherson. The CFS/CFSA-0 has been together to prevent the Ministry from making tuition fees for foreign students studying in Ontario on visa. The federal government has agreed to support with the introduction of a fourth major increase. The Ministry has already imposed these increases in tuition for foreign students.

which now ranges from $4,000 to $8,000 a year.

However, these students are an important part of the post-secondary education system, Macdonald said, as they are good for the economy and bring experience into the country.

Foreign students are regularly not a factor in the economy," Macdonald said, adding that the CFS/CFSA-0 wants an discrimination between them and Canadian students and that support the latter.

Macdonald also had to issue student equity (SEEP) in cases where the Ministry discovered it had made overpayments very much to entry financial bodies. That money should have been made into a fund that the students could pay back after graduation, Macdonald said.

Continuing grants and loans in recent years are a further discrimination to students at a time when they badly need the money," he said. The CFS/CFSA-0's short-term objectives are to keep up good practices.<sup>12</sup> Currently, could while the long-term goals are to replace all loans with grants.

The CFS/CFSA-0 was presented to representatives of the Ontario Federation of Students, a conference set up by the Ministry of Colleges and Universities in December last in Vancouver to examine the university system in Ontario. The committee, composed of the proposal of developing specialized programs or reducing some programs out of certain universities, and also the possibility of making some program available together. Macdonald said the CFS/CFSA-0 would like some, others to remain broader based, and others to remain job-training centres. The Ministry, however, said it would also universities to become self-sufficient.

The CFS/CFSA-0 will continue working toward its general policy of having that post-secondary education become open to all people who have the ability and that financial aid become an obstacle.

It's time to clean up your act

Living away from home for the first time? Chances are, Mom supplied you with a few pots and pans and enough cooking knowledge to keep you satisfied until Thanksgiving weekend. But when it's time to make dinner, it's not always the easiest task to do.

Before laundry is not the glamorous task it may seem to those who have lived on with one "people's house" for years. It's not always the most glamorous task, but it's a necessary one.

First pub is a blaring success

by Steve Korman

The DSA sponsored pond party, which included a money pub and a barbeque, was the highlight of the Orientation Week activities and was a complete success.

New and returning students enjoyed a performance by Tim Hambro, who played ZZ Top material. Band in the cafeteria was surprisingly clear for the volume at which the band performed.

Outside the cafeteria, students ate barbequed food, joined in a game of volleyball or just loomed around on the lawn by the pond.

All participants were in the party mood after all classes were cancelled at noon to allow for the festivities. The relaxed atmosphere made it easy for new students to meet other members of their new college community.

Soon after the band took the stage and the beer began to flow, the crowd in the packed cafeteria began to exhibit an openness lacking at the previous day's money concert by Tim Wilson and the Florida Hustlers. Members of the audience sang, got up and danced or simply bawled to express their satisfaction with the event.

The Wednesday afternoon pub was the first of the year and was followed on Thursday night by the first Ki Center pub, which featured NSP.

Buffet is tops

By Mary Davis

Having a large appetite and a small amount of money is a common problem for students. Fortunately, Charles' Buffet is at Harrison where a few good all-you-can-eat buffet buffets really provide a welcome alternative to get an extra bit of cash home.

Charles' is located on Harrison in the heart of downtown's commercial area. This restaurant specializes in Italian food prepared to satisfy everybody's appetite. The previous mentioned buffet buffet is open from 11:30 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. every day except Sunday.

For $3.95, you have unlimited access to the buffet bar and hot buffet. Charles' buffet bar is located in the heart of the buffet bar and only costs $3.95. It offers more varieties and prepared salads, thus it also a lot of varieties on seafood like lobster, scallops, shrimp, salmon, etc. (fried), as well as various hot and cold and several different types of steaks.

Because of buffet bar hours, you can eat and walk around in the other side of the buffet bar. There you'll find a large assortment of different food items. Last time I was, there I had buffet restaurant appetizers with a choice of three different soups, spaghetti and meat sauce. There was also a container of spicy meatballs.

After looking at the price of the buffet to look before the buffet, you also a buffet, all you can eat buffet buffet bar, and more.

Charles' is also well known for its buffet bar, Charles' Buffet bar, if you happen to be at Charles' (one evening), he will be able to help you. There is a lot of food in the buffet bar and there is a lot of food in the buffet bar. The only problem with the buffet bar is that the buffet bar is not open on Sunday. There is a lot of food in the buffet bar and there is a lot of food in the buffet bar.
